About Adobe WebKit Team

The WebKit team is looking for a bright and talented engineer to help us shape the future of the web.

The WebKit team in Adobe is contributing to new web standards and WebKit implementation, in the area of enhancing the web expressivity.

As part of this effort, last year at MAX 2010 conference, we showed the world the first prototype of CSS Regions and CSS extension - two major enhancements in page layout. Meanwhile, we've contributed the first part of CSS Regions to WebKit (which is now shipped with Chrome 15 [link]), and worked with W3C on standardization.

Here's a demo of CSS Regions.

This year we've done it again with CSS Shaders, a way to implement custom filters for HTML and SVG elements - allowing web developers to implement both vertex and fragment shaders. Here's what you can do with it.

We're also contributing in other areas, like aligning CSS and SVG transforms.

Adobe Romania is the largest Research and Development center in the Europe, Middle East and Africa region. Over 250 passionate and highly creative employees work on products and services for enhanced web development and consumption. Adobe Romania is the best company to work for in Romania (Hewitt survey 2008/2009). Adobe is an equal opportunity/affirmative action employer. We welcome and encourage diversity in the workplace.

Requirements

For this team, we're looking for a person who:

- Has a strong CS background (data structures, algorithms & low level stuff)
- Has excellent knowledge of C++, with proved experience, ideally on both Windows and Mac (or Linux)
- Has experience with large codebases
- Is passionate about the Web and has knowledge in web technologies (HTML, CSS, JavaScript, HTTP)
- Ideally, has contributed to open source projects (this is a big extra)
- Knows how a web browser works (another big extra)
- Speaks and writes fluently in English

Benefits

We offer the opportunity to build a career in a rapidly expanding software company, working with international technology groups. Excellent benefits package including Stock Options Plan, Medical and Life insurance, and more.

Adobe believes personal fulfillment and company success go hand in hand, sustaining one another. In fact, our dynamic, rewarding working environment is well known - including eight years on FORTUNE magazine's "100 Best Companies to Work For" and other, similar accolades. By hiring the very best and brightest, Adobe continues to be a simply better place to work - creating a dynamic environment today and providing incentives for future achievement.
